

GRADUATE STUDENT SEMINAR INVITATION

IDRC FELLOWSHIPS AND AWARDS FOR GRADUATE STUDENTS

The International Development Research Centre (IDRC) Training and Awards Program provides opportunities for enhanced scientific and technical know-how and increases the pool of experts versed in crucial international development issues. For developing countries, the awards expand the number of trained, experienced researchers to tackle practical problems and contribute to sustainable and equitable development.

SPEAKER: Ms. Katie Bryant-Moetele who is based at the International Development Research Centre (IDRC) will discuss the awards that IDRC offers to graduate students for research. She is the recipient of an IDRC Research Intern Award and is conducting her doctoral research in Botswana. She has worked as both a Writing Instructor and Coordinator of Carleton University's (Ottawa, Canada) Writing Centre where she helped university students and staff with their academic writing activities.

VENUE: PESC Committee Room, University of Botswana

DATE: 30 AUGUST 2010

TIME: 6PM

Registration is Essential for Catering Purposes.

Register by sending an email to thibedid@mopipi.ub.bw

For further information call Ms. Thibedi on Ext 2902 or visit Room 148 CCE Bldg.